- 5 Step four - Share your stories

Neurodiversity Celebration Week takes place from Monday 17th March - Sunday 23rd March 2025

Founded by Siena Castellon in 2018, Neurodiversity Celebration Week is a worldwide initiative that challenges stereotypes and misconceptions about neurological differences. It aims to transform how neurodivergent individuals are perceived and supported by providing schools, universities, organisations, and others around the world with the opportunity to recognise the many skills and talents of neurodivergent individuals, while creating more inclusive and equitable cultures that celebrate differences and empower every individual.

All of the ideas in this pack are designed to help organisations celebrate and take part during the week. The activities and ideas outlined are aimed at all audiences, and we hope you find them useful!

Step 1

Download our NCW resources

Download our neurodiversity quiz, posters and other resources.

“Choose from our wide array of posters that celebrate the talents and achievements of the neurodivergent community. Display these around your office, in hallways, or share via internal comms!”

Ryan Gosling has ADHD?

Did you know...

Greta Thunberg is autistic?

Lewis Capaldi has tourette's?

Whoopi Goldberg is dyslexic?

Step 2

Attend our free neurodiversity events

Join thousands in attending the neurodiversity week panel discussions and webinars throughout the week. They're all online and free to attend!

Here's a sneak peak at some of the themes we're going to be covering in this year's events:

- Neurodiversity in the workplace
- Nutrition & lifestyle
- Neurodiversity in the classroom
- The experiences of neurodivergent women
- The future of neurodiversity - Innovation & tech
- Neurodiversity & mental health
- Culture, community & class
- Neurodiversity & the criminal justice system
- Neurodiversity around the world

Step 3

Training & Awareness

Arrange neurodiversity training and awareness for managers and colleagues

Although about 15% of all people are neurodivergent, most employees do not have the training and knowledge needed to identify and support their neurodivergent peers.

Here are some suggestions:

- Invite neurodivergent employees to give a talk about their lived-experiences
- Encourage employees to download and read the free resources on our website
- Develop toolkits that serve as references and guides to support neuro-inclusive interactions and procedures in the workplace
- Organise a neurodiversity webinar or workshop
- Establish Employee Resource Groups (ERG's) to provide a platform for neurodivergent employees to connect, share experiences and support initiatives to further promote neuro-inclusion in the workplace

Lexxic can support your organisation:

Our partners, Lexxic are proud to be regarded as one of the leading organisations specialising in Neurodiversity in the workplace. Over the last 17 years they have partnered with organisations around the world, delivering on their mission to inspire a world that supports and values the talents of neurodivergent minds.
